

Permanent Futures have lined up a range of training through The Skills Service

Specialist recruitment business, Permanent futures, have arranged training to include: Level Three First Aid, Public Speaking, Marketing, PR and Social Media Training.

Tom Liptrot, MD:

“Futures is committed the continuous development of staff and creating progression opportunities and routes for all. Futures is currently working closely with The Skills Service to identify skills gaps and areas of improvement within the company and creating a plan of how best to utilise Skills Service funding to bridge the gaps, upskill staff and lead to further progression and development opportunities.”
